

Global Outlook :

Rhonda Everdyke is a member of Realizing The Dream's International Youth Corps (IYC). As the programmatic arm of The King Center for Nonviolent Social Change in Atlanta, Realizing the Dream seeks to champion freedom, justice and equality by working to redress poverty, build community and foster peace through nonviolence.

International Youth Corps (IYC) recognizes the integral role of young leaders in redressing conflict, whether regional or local, through means rooted in nonviolence, civic responsibility, and collaboration. The program establishes projects in countries around the globe where participants live, serve, dialogue, and learn side-by-side, all while enjoying a fulfilling experience that exposes them to the culture and lifestyles, challenges and opportunities that young people their ages face.

Please check out Rhonda's blog:

Traveling with "The King" and Finding the Young Leader's Voice

<http://www.realizingthedream.org/blog/traveling-with-the-king-and-finding-the-young-leader2019s-voice>